Black History is American History is Black History*

A civil rights activist from Chicago, Charlene Mitchell became the first black woman to run for president, campaigning on the Communist Party ticket in 1968 at age 38. She once said Martin Luther King Jr. was “a tremendous human being,” but “I do not accept nonviolence as a principle.”

Helen Morey is the Collection Development/Acquisitions Librarian for the Carl S. Swisher Library. She manages the print materials budget, monitors expenditures, and ensures the efficient ordering and receipt of library materials. She also reviews and drafts collection development policies and collaborates with other librarians who serve as liaison to various colleges and schools.

Ms. Morey joined the Carl S. Swisher Library staff in August 2008. She previously served as a researcher at the Daytona Beach News Journal and at other academic libraries including the University of Central Florida as a Visiting Librarian where her duties included conducting fee-based patent, screening trademark searches, and performing reference duties. Ms. Morey also worked as a Cataloger and Reference Librarian at the College of Central Florida, as well as an instructional designer in the Orlando area.

A native Floridian, Ms. Morey earned an M.S. in Library Science from Florida State University, with a concentration in Academic Libraries and Cataloging. Her undergraduate degree is from Pepperdine University where she majored in European History and Humanities. She has also taken a number of doctoral-level Information Technology courses at the University of Central Florida.

Ms. Morey is a member of the American Library Association, the Florida Library Association, and the New Smyrna Beach Church of Christ.

Google Maps Isn’t Just for Getting Directions

While you may use the app on your smartphone for directions, the desktop version offers many more uses and flexibility. As in the example image here, you can add locations with pinpoint markers, zoom in and out, save, export, print, or add to a web page.

Click the link — mymaps.google.com — to learn more of what Google Maps allows you to do. If you’re not signed into your Google account, you’ll be prompted to do so. Also, check out Top 50 Things You Didn’t Know You Could Do With Google Maps.

Books on the Quad
Can’t make it to the library to check out or return books? No need to stress. Librarians will have high-interest and current selections to check out and collect those that are due.

February 6
February 20

Have a book request?
Email Ask A Librarian

Librarian Betty Story will lead students, staff and faculty in a series of body strengthening positions. She urges everyone to try it at least once! Bring a towel or mat and hydration.

February 19 @ 6:00 PM
2nd Floor of the library

Ask-A-Librarian

Librarians will visit the fine arts, business and nursing buildings twice a month this semester beginning with the dates below.

February 13
February 27

Times may vary, but be on the lookout for a librarian in the lobby of these buildings. They will be there to answer student, staff and faculty questions about the library, research, databases, materials, planning, programming, collaborations, collections, etc.

Please, take advantage of their expertise.

Need an item? We may be able to bring it to you on the days we have scheduled to visit. Email us at askalibrarian@cookman.edu and let us know.

Books & Bears will feature author Primrose Cameron, Ed.D. She has worked and advocated for families for over two decades and currently resides in Florida. She has a wealth of experience as a motivational speaker, life coach, master of ceremonies, a classroom teacher and professor, professional development specialist, counselor and author, helping many children, young adults and their families along the way. Princess Primrose represents the children of the world that blossom with love and care.

The program will also include a Valentine’s Banquet and photos (bring $5 for 8x10 photo). Dress in your best red and black and experience a morning of fun with reading activities, arts & crafts, games, food, and much more.

Books & Bears invites local children between the ages of 4 and 11 to read books, make arts/crafts and enjoy refreshments. This initiative seeks to increase community engagement, enhance early reading skills and promote the use of library resource materials. The program is a partnership between Carl S. Swisher Library, the Bethune Foundation and the College of Education.

...you are able to sign in and save items to your folder in B-CU’s catalog and EBSCO Databases? Instructions below are for the catalog, but are very similar in EBSCO as well.

1. Go to Carl S. Swisher Library and enter your keywords in the search box.

2. From the results screen, click Sign In in the upper right corner and sign in.

3. Your name will appear in the upper right-hand corner. Browse your results and select Save for items you wish to return to later or add to your saved searches or personal lists. Once you have saved all items of interest and completed your search, select My Items (In EBSCO - My Folder).

4. Your saved items will appear. Select Create List and follow the on-screen instructions. You can create custom lists for your courses, research assignments, or subject.
